Dear Parents,

Well what do they say about the best laid plans?

As you will probably have heard the country is once more in full lockdown and as a consequence our school will be closed to the majority of children with immediate effect.

Our plan will be very similar to the programme we put in place back in March of last year. Starting tomorrow morning we will provide care for vulnerable children and children of key workers (e.g. NHS worker, member of the emergency services or supermarket worker). If you are not sure if your child fits in to these categories, please telephone the school from 8.30am tomorrow morning for confirmation prior to your journey to school. For everyone else, your children must stay at home. A programme of home-learning is being put together; this is going to take a couple of days, but we will be in touch very soon with details how these materials can be collected from school.

Email is the school's main method of communication and will be used to share any information. Therefore, please check your emails regularly for updates.

Keep safe.

Yours sincerely,

Jonathan Brough
